

Trills can be played either with high wrists or low wrists: choose the position that is appropriate for the style of music you play and your hands